MYSTIC HEALING THERAPIES

Create the Weather you Want
Meditation Guide

We are stronger, we are brighter, we are lighter

What we need to know about the Weather Elementals

The weather is governed and controlled by the weather elementals, these are living beings of consciousness, just like you and me, although they don't have the free will that we have. In view of this, they will respond to commands and instructions. The best way in which to foster good relationships with the elementals, is to love and respect them, honour their work and their essence. It's no different from your relationships with people, if you treat people with respect, you are far more likely to get them on your side, and they are far more likely to co-operate with you.

Many of you reading this will have had lived past-lives where you created your own weather systems, with your thoughts and intentions. For example, most people are aware of the Native American rain dancers. Many of you will have the soul memories of this, my job is to gently help you remember, so that you may step back into your magical power, and create the weather you want. Like with so many other things, the dark forces have not wanted us to know about our magical creative selves. Make no mistake, they have been commanding the elements, and using the weather against us for a very long time, think bush fires, floods, hurricanes, designed to cause maximum disruption and bring our vibrational levels down.

Like everything else, it is time now for us organic human beings, to claim back our divine powers, and be the creator beings we were intended to be. It's time for us to work with the weather elementals and create the weather conditions we want. How many times have you layed in bed, listening to a storm, hoping that your home won't succumb to any damage? But as you are lying there, you have been conditioned to be in a passive state, hoping for the best, but having no idea that you can influence the outcome yourself.

It is really quite a simple process, we all have the power to do this for ourselves. For example, if I hear of a storm heading my way, first of all, I would reiterate the physic force-field pyramid I've already gridded round my property, then I would communicate with the elementals, thanking them and honouring them and their work. After that I would specifically send them a lot of love, and calming energy, I would imagine them becoming serene, calm, and happy. Then I would specifically ask them to pass through my property with grace and ease, imagining the winds gently traversing my property. We have all seen news reports of weather events, where there has been mass disruption, but for some reason, seemingly against all odds a single property has remained perfectly in tact. I have no doubts whatsoever, that in these circumstances, there has been some conscious divine intervention, i.e direct communication with the weather elementals.

As an individual, we are very powerful, but as a collective energy, we are unstoppable. Therefore, next time we hear of a bush fire, or potential hurricane or storm, if as a collective we all tuned in and communicated with the weather elementals, we truly have the power to extinguish any bush fire, and down-grade any hurricane. They don't want us to know this, because when we do, their power games, and ability to unleash mass disruption are over, together we are stronger, we are brighter, we are lighter..... Below is my meditation guide, on how to connect with the beautiful weather elementals.

Invocation/Protection

Take some deep breaths, put aside all the cares of the day. Take some deep breaths, connect yourself, to yourself in this moment. Call in Archangel Michael, your team of helpers, for me that would be the dragons, the unicorns, my ancestors the higher Galactic's, and Archangel Raphael, I'm also calling in the ancestors of this place, the spirits of this place, and very importantly for this meditation, we are calling in the weather elementals and the elementals of this place.

As I call these in, I am making it very clear, that I am only calling those in with the highest and best intention for all concerned. The highest and the best for everyone. We know now that we have the protection of the Archangels and all those mentioned, and they are coming in on the vibration to serve the highest and best for humanity and all concerned.

Set the Intention

Great spirit, Divine light of Source, we give our heartfelt thanks, for everything we have received so far on our journeys. Today, Great Spirit, we ask that we may link with the beautiful weather elementals, and that they will help us manifest desirable weather conditions.

Communicate directly with the Elementals

We would like to let you know that we love, honour and respect you, our dear friends the weather elementals, and from our radiant golden hearts to yours we send our love and gratitude. We ask you, dear elementals, that you will work with us today, in order for us to experience the weather we desire.

(The weather conditions you desire, may differ, depending on where you are, and what time of year it is. Remember, we are working with the elementals, it would be unrealistic to ask for hot weather, if you were in the Northern hemisphere in January! Recently I have been cloud-busting the chem trail grey clouds, so my communication has gone something like this);

Dearest friends, the elementals, thank you for all that you do. I command you dear friends, to undo any prior weather programming placed on you by those going against the natural laws, I supersede any negative commands by asking that the skies are returned to the original state as intended by the Great Spirit, and that we may experience the organic weather patterns as was intended. I ask that you dissipate the grey skies, and I can see the thick grey clouds breaking up, and dissolving into the atmosphere, transmuting the energy, leaving the skies clear blue, allowing the healing rays of the sunshine to nourish and energise all life-forms. As I am clearly intending this, and as I am seeing the clouds dissolve, I say this mantra:

Repeat out loud 3 times (or in your head if not suitable to say out loud)

"We are stronger, we are brighter, we are lighter"

"We are stronger, we are brighter, we are lighter"

"We are stronger, we are brighter, we are lighter"x3

The clearer you set the intention, the clearer you imagine your intended outcome, and the more you are in stepped into your power, the more effective you will be.

Here is an example of how you may use your intention, to calm down a weather situation, such as a storm or a bush fire;

Dearest friends, the elementals, thank you for all that you do. I command you dear friends, to undo any prior weather programming placed on you by those going against the natural laws, I supersede any negative commands by asking that the skies are returned to the original state as intended by the Great Spirit, and that we may experience the organic weather patterns as was intended. I send my love and light to you, beautiful weather elementals, and ask that you may feel this love soothing and calming you, leaving you feeling serene and at one with the natural world. As I envisage the storm/fire calming down repeat out loud 3 times (or in your head if not suitable to say out loud)

“We are stronger, we are brighter, we are lighter”

“We are stronger, we are brighter, we are lighter”

“We are stronger, we are brighter, we are lighter”x3

You may use the same protocol, if for example you were in need of rain, you would communicate this to the elementals, and imagine a gentle rain falling on the space around you.

Give Thanks, Close the Space

We thank all those who have taken part in this practice, we give particular thanks to the weather elementals, and the guardians of the skies. We thank Archangel Michael, and the elementals of this place, we thank everyone who has taken part in this practice.

Thank you, Thank you, Thank you.

It is done, It is done, It is done.
